TIME EXTENDED ONE WEEK IN WAR SAVINGS STAMP CAMPAIGN

Extension Is Granted and First Failure on a Call of the Government Is Averted

SEVERAL THOUSAND BEHIND

Women Play Prominent Part, Putting Washington Township Over The Top Unassisted

SPECIAL COMMITTEES BUSY

Eight New Members Are Added to the Limit Club—Large Voluntary Subscriptions

With Rush county still several thousand dollars below her War Savings stamp quota, an extension of time to avert its impending first war failure, has been granted by the executive committee of the sales.

Although the drive was scheduled to close last night with the ending of Thrift Day, the time for which the campaign was scheduled was filled with delays because of the busy season among residents of the rural districts, and because of this a week's extension has been granted, giving every part of the county ample time to make up the deficiency.

The telegram announcing the time extension came as a surprise to the district chairman who had had no previous intimation from the state authorities that any additional time would be granted for the completion of the campaign. The telegram from J. D. Oliver, state director, follows:

"Because of President Wilson's earnest entreaty that every county go over the top during the present drive, I am authorized to extend time for receipt of your complete tabulated report of cash sales and pledges to Friday evening, July 5. Meanwhile the sale of stamps and the solicitation of pledges may be kept up and your county will receive credit for such sales and pledges as part of the present national drive. This should insure your county's raising its full quota."

The extension of time has added new life to the War Savings stamp organization which was exceedingly down-hearted last night after a desperate effort to put the county over at the close of Thrift day proved unsuccessful. The canvassing organization which is made up mostly of Liberty Loan canvassers had never fallen down before in any of the war work which had been given into their hands to dispose of, and the fact that failure faced the workers for the first time was most disheartening.

Evidence of the reawakening in every part of the county was visible yesterday as reports in every headquarters indicated that large voluntary subscriptions were coming in in large numbers. Citizens anxious that the city and county should go on record as having answered in full the urgent appeal of President Wilson brought their subscriptions voluntarily.

The work of the special committee which canvassed the county especially in search for thousand dollar subscribers, has been fruitful and at noon today the tabulations of the canvassers which were submitted to the headquarters, indicated that eight thousand dollars had been added to the county subscription through this source. The additions to the Limit club which have been received since Thursday include the following men and women:

Posey township: Carl Leisure, Frank Outst.

Anderson township: Thomas Innis, Monroe Glocen, W. B. Crane.

Rushville township: Wallace Morgan, Innis, Pearce Co., B. F. Miller, D. C. Buell, John Stiers, G. P. Manz, Charles French, John Wallace, Val Conway, J. C. King.

Orange township: James Wright, Mrs. Arlie Wright, Argus Waggoner, John Kemper, Jefferson Lantz and L. R. McAhren.

Although definite results as to the subscriptions in the townships are unavailable, those which have been received at the headquarters show excellent subscriptions. The most remarkable report which has yet been received comes from the northwest section of Noble where one hundred percent of the property owners residing there subscribed to the War Savings stamps and ninety-nine percent of the non-resident property owners also subscribed.

The report of the woman's committee in Rushville township shows a subscription of $50,000 up to last night with many canvassers still unreported. The women have also made splendid records in all of the out townships where their work has been untiring. In Washington township, where an over-the-top subscription has been reported, all of the canvassing was completed by the women and in Union township a $13,315 subscription by the women has been reported.

RUSHVILLE MEN MEET
ABOARD A TRANSPORT

Letter From Lieut. D. D. Dragoo
Tells of Finding Lieut. Pearsey
While on Way "Over There"

SURPRISE TO BOTH OF THEM

It has become such a common occurrence during recent months for Rush county residents to pass the time of day in French towns in England and even in No-Man's Land, that little surprise was evident a few days ago when Lieut. D. D. Dragoo and Lieut. Hale Pearsey met on a transport enroute "over there," much as they might have done on the Main street of the city before the war.

A letter Mrs. D. D. Dragoo received this morning from her husband, which was written aboard ship, stated that early one morning while walking about the ship the two Rushville men met, each previously being unaware of the presence of the other on the ship. The fact that the letter was written at sea and received before the government card was sent announcing the arrival of the ship in a foreign port, indicates that letters from passing steamers were exchanged and thus the message was received here.

Lieut. Dragoo, who enlisted last summer in the veterinary corps and Lieut. Pearsey who enlisted about the same time in the dental corps of the army, were in training in this country about the same length of time, each being in different camps, however.

GOING TO CULVER

George Poston, son of Mrs. Sanford Poston of North Main street, has been admitted to Culver Military Academy and will leave Monday to enter the summer course of two months.

TWO BRANCHES INSPECTED

J. J. Glendenning Inspects Masonic Chapter and Council

John J. Glendenning conducted the inspection of the Rushville chapter No. 24, R. A. M. and Rushville council No. 41 R. & S. M. yesterday evening in the Masonic temple.

The work of the local chapters was in charge of Earl H. Payne of official rank in both the council and chapter. The inspection resulted in the local organizations being highly complimented by the grand inspector, after which the remainder of the evening was spent with an informal reception. A good representation of both the chapter and council attended the inspection.

FORTY TO GO FROM BUSINESS GORGES
HERE ON JULY CALLMovement of Selectives Beginning
22nd Will be The Largest Out of Rush County

TO BE SENT TO CAMP TAYLOR

INCREMENT WILL Practically Exhaust
Class One—Results of Reclassifications

Rush county will have to provide forty class one registrants on the July call for troops, which will be the largest single increment ever sent from Rush county since the selective service act was passed. The largest quota leaving Rush county up to this time was thirty-one, which went to Camp Taylor Saturday, April 27.

"We'll have to have the band out and give these boys a big sendoff," commented one man this morning when he learned that forty would have to entrain in July.

The increment is ordered to Camp Taylor, Ky., and will depart some time between Monday, July 22 and Friday, July 26. This is the date of the five-day troop movement, but the exact date for the entrainment of the local quota was not received.

This will practically exhaust the men in class one, with the exception of a few colored men. By the time the next call comes, however, some of the new group of registrants will have been placed in class one. The local board estimated the other day that forty men would be called from this county when notice was received that the state would have to supply 7,700 next month.

The increment being sent to Camp Taylor means that the men will go into artillery replacement units, because all infantrymen were recently moved from Camp Taylor to Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio. Rush county's last big increment was sent to Camp Sherman.

The local board has practically completed the reclassification ordered by the provost marshal. It has resulted so far in eight deferred class registrants being placed in class one, two being moved up to class two from class four and two being moved from four to three. In addition one registrant was moved to class one from class two and another from class three by the district, they having been granted deferred classes on agricultural claims.

Of the four deferred class registrants reclassified in one, who were examined yesterday, three passed the physical tests. One of those passing, Paul McDaniel, appealed his case to the medical advisory board. Ed Jackson was put in class five on account of physical unfitness and Jesse Ruefenacht and Clarence Borem are now in class one unconditionally.

The reclassifications of the local board have resulted as follows, not counting the four examined yesterday.

CONFIRMS MURDER OF CZAR

German Embassy at Moscow Tells of Assassination by Red Guards

(By United Press)

Stockholm, June 29.—The German embassy at Moscow confirmed the murder of the former czar, according to a dispatch received today. According to the report, the Red Guards went to the former emperor's mansion and ordered the family to prepare to leave. While enroute to the station, Nicholas protested against the transfer when the Red Guards bayoneted him. The former empress and daughters were not molested. The former czar was taken to a separate, unknown place.

INVESTIGATION BY FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION SHOWS SOME FIRMS HAVE MADE IMMENSE SUMS

PACKING FIRMS ARE SCORED

NO LESS ASTONISHING ARE REVELATIONS CONCERNING STEEL AND FLOUR MILLS AND COAL MINES

(By United Press)

Washington, June 29.—American business is gorging on war profits. The federal trade commission so reported to the senate today, showing among other accounts the figures that four of the five factories reaching $140,000,000 profit on the 1915-1917 business, $121,000,000 represented an excess over pre-war profits.

The packers particularly came in for heavy scoring but other lines, including flour milling, were shown to be realizing vast sums above peace-time profits.

Armour, Swift, Morris and Cudahy were designated as the leaders in the meat profit. The Wilson company's profits were also large.

The profits of Morris and Co., for the year ending November, 1917, are equal to the net worth of the company and 263 per cent on the capital stock outstanding. In the cases of the other four companies, the rate is from 20 to 27 per cent.

No less astonishing are the revelations from the steel mills which showed that government prices were not too low for them as they said. It was found in one instance that 319 per cent profit was made while many others have reached over 100 per cent.

The flour millers have made unusual profit and their averages are said to be 38 per cent of the investment. The average net profit of jobbers for 1913 and '14 is said to have been 15 cents a barrel but increased to 50 cents in 1917.

Margins of the coal industries in many cases were two or three times normal.

First U. S. Troops Are Now In Italy

SANITARY FORCES land Friday, General March Announces, and General Pershing is Sending Fighting Troops. First Division of Conscripted Troops Take Over Sector in France.

(By United Press)

Washington, June 29.—The first American troops landed in Italy yesterday General March announced today. They are sanitary forces and have been on the high sea for some time. Fighting troops are being sent to the Italian front by General Pershing.

At the same time March announced that the 77th national army division raised in New York, had taken over a sector on the front. It is the first division composed of conscripted men to take over a part of the front.

Five American divisions which have been brigaded with the British, were returned to Pershing.

March stated that the entire situation is favorable to the allies and said that the Italian success has been inspiring from both a military and psychological standpoint.

His report shows that the Italians had captured 18,000 Austrians. The Italians have restored their lines to practically where they were before the drive.

BLACK RECOMMENDED FOR ARMY CHAPLAIN

Three Ministers From the Connersville District May Receive Army Appointment

MUST BE COLLEGE GRADUATES

The Rev. Clyde S. Black of this city, pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist church, has been recommended by the district superintendent, Dr. J. M. Walker for chaplain from this district to serve in the United States army.

The recommendation was made upon the request of Bishop Anderson who is in charge of the residential area in which the Connersville district is located. He asked that three ministers be recommended from each district, where they could comply with the requirements that the minister has completed a course in some college or university and that he be under forty years of age.

The call has been issued in every district in Methodism and because some districts will not be able to furnish their quota of ministers, it is necessary that those which are able to do so, comply with the requirements. The Rev. J. W. McFall, pastor of the Connersville First church, and the Rev. L. H. Kendall, pastor of the Grand Avenue church at Connersville, have also been recommended.

PREDICTS SURPRISE BLOW

Amsterdam, June 29.—Germany is about to strike another surprise blow at the allies, according to General Von Liebert, who commanded a German army in the Russian campaign.

In an interview he referred to the Austrian offensive as a "painful failure."

"It will not be long before another German blow will surprise the allies, falling where it is least expected," the general said.

German newspapers blamed the weather for the Piave failure.

"The failure against the Italian artillery was disastrous," one paper declared.

REPORTS 42 CASUALTIES

Washington, June 29.—General Pershing reported 42 casualties today including 5 killed in action; 12 dead of wounds; two of disease; two of accident and other causes; 14 wounded and 7 missing in action.

There were 39 marine corps casualties, including 24 killed in action; 8 dead of wounds and 7 wounded in action.

Harry E. Green of Indianapolis died of wounds.

Zurich, June 29.—German newspapers declare the government is preparing for military intervention in Russia, "to restore order." Russian Maximilists will assist, they claim.

If Your Average Load
Is Less Than a Ton

THIS REO "SPEED WAGON" will serve the purpose better than a heavier truck.

FOLK USED TO THINK that the right thing to do was to buy a truck big enough to carry the heaviest load they had to deliver.

BUT EXPERIENCE has proven that the lighter truck, mounted on pneumatic tires, is the more economical.

EVEN IF YOU HAVE enough going to the same place to require two trips of this $\frac{1}{2}$ -ton Reo, you'll find you can deliver the lot in less time than by one load on a big solid tired truck.

MOST TIMES, however, there are smaller loads to be delivered to separate points.

IN THAT CASE there is simply no comparison—the speedy $\frac{1}{2}$ -ton Reo is the only way.

IN SELECTING a truck for your own particular service, figure out what is the average load and buy for that rather than for your heaviest loads. The latter are few in most lines of business.

DON'T OVERLOOK the fact that half the distance is made with the truck empty—in a great majority of cases—and the wear and tear on a $\frac{1}{2}$ -ton truck is about one fourth what it is on one of twice that capacity.

ESPECIALLY is that true if the other be mounted on solid tires.

FULLY 80 PER CENT of all hauling, both in the country and in the city, is better done—quicker, and cheaper—by this $\frac{1}{2}$ -ton Reo "Hurry-Up Wagon."

DEMAND is tremendous. Never have been able to supply all who wanted Reos. And demand for this particular type of truck is increasing by leaps and bounds as users discover its great range of adaptability.

IN A THOUSAND lines of business this Reo is proving itself the ideal type. It will do so in yours.

BUT YOUR ORDER must be in our hands soon if you desire a delivery in the near future.

TARDY BUYERS will surely have to wait or accept a second choice, for only those who decide now and order at once can hope to obtain Reos.

TODAY won't be a minute too soon.

THE GOLD STANDARD
OF VALUESUnable to Get Hun Souvenir Sends a Photograph InsteadRussell Faull Captures German at Battle of Lens and Marches
Him to Headquarters

HIS CAREER ONE OF THRILLS

"Oh, my sweetheart, don't you fear, I'll bring you a Hun for a souvenir!"

By a slight change in the wording of the popular war time ballad the dreams of one Rush county boy serving in the allied trenches in France have been realized and although he has not been able to send his prisoner to folks at home for their inspection and approval, he did the next best and sent his photograph.

Russell Faull who as a native of Rush county, made his home in the northern part of the county for a number of years and is now numbered among the men who are "up and at 'em" holds an enviable position among his fellow trenchmen who were with the young man at the battle of Lens where he captured a prisoner, slightly younger than himself, and marched him proudly into the headquarters department of his regiment.

The career of the former Rush county boy has been filled with thrills since his enlistment in the Canadian forces some time before his own country became entangled in the world war. He left for oversea duty in February, 1917, and after a training course in an English training camp was sent to the French front, to do his part in the struggle.

The photograph of the prisoner, which was probably taken upon the demand of his captor, is unlike most of our conceptions of members of the "Hun Hordes" which passed through Belgium reaping desolation on every side. The youth of the prisoner is plainly evident from the photograph, which also displays his natural peaceful tendencies that have been eclipsed by the cruel grasping hand of Prussianism.

Letters from young Faull tell many thrilling stories of his experiences since he entered actively into the service. While on duty at an anti-aircraft post in France several months ago, the Germans began a fierce shelling of the Canadian position with gas shells of the most powerful calibre. The men quickly adjusted their masks and while in the act of adjusting his mask, a piece of shrapnel struck the mask worn by Faull, rendering it useless.

The young man was an inmate of a field hospital as the result of the experience for more than five months. He was later placed in a base hospital in England where he is still under the care of physicians. The poisonous gas caused him to lose the power of speech for a long period and since then other complications have developed which have delayed his recovery.

The Austrian Drive a Confession of Starvation

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for June 29th presents a careful summary of the most expert opinion in this country and Europe on the Austrian offensive. Beyond the Piave, Emperor Charles told his troops "glory awaits you and also honor, good food, abundant spoils and final peace." Many Austrian soldiers, with copies of this royal promise in their pockets, found at least food and peace in the Italian prison camps and told their captors that the Austrian drive which began June 15th might best be described as a "hunger offensive."

By a "hunger offensive" editors understand not a mere foraging expedition to get food from the valleys of Northern Italy, but a bid for victory to quiet the cries for bread in Vienna and Budapest.

Do not miss reading this interesting survey of the latest development of the great world war in this week's issue of THE LITERARY DIGEST.

The People Who Read "The Digest"

The best test of any periodical is the class of its readers. Character in a magazine or newspaper attracts men and women of standing and judgment as inevitably as a flower draws the bee, and for the same reason. It suits their taste. Glance around you in the train, on the street-cars, in hotel lobbies, wherever your fellow humans congregate, and note the people who read THE LITERARY DIGEST. They are the best type. They buy "The Digest" because they know it is accurate, impartial, wholesome, comprehensive, and up-to-date, because they can take it home to their children with confidence, and because it covers the world's news as no other periodical does. Are you with them?

Emphatically Asserts Worn Out, Lagging Men Can Quickly Become Vigorous and Full of Ambition

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

Don't blame the man who is perpetually tired; his blood needs more red corpuscles and his brain and nerves are craving for food.

Given the right kind of medicine, any tired-out, inactive, lagging fellow can quickly be made into a full live, energetic and even ambitious man.

So says a student of the nervous system who advises all men and women who feel worn out and who it is hard to get up ambition enough to take a regular job to get a package of Bio-feren at any druggist.

This is the new discovery that pharmacists are recommending because it is not expensive and speedily puts vigor and ambition into people who despaired of ever amounting to anything in life.

People whose nerves have been wrecked by too rapid living, too much tobacco or alcohol, have regained their old-time confidence and energy in less than two weeks.

No matter from what cause your nerves went back on you, no matter how you do, never be tired out again; get an original package of Bio-feren at once. Take two tablets after each meal and one before bedtime—seven a day for seven days, then one after each meal till all are gone.

Then if you still lack ambition; if your nerves are not steady and you haven't the energy that red-blooded, keen-minded men possess, your purchase money will be gladly returned.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium; Glycerine; Phosphate; Iron; Peptone; Manganese; Peppermint; Balsam; Nux Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Olearsine; Capsicum; Kola.

The Sugar Shortage

A number of causes, according to food administration officials, have contributed to bring about the more stringent regulation of the sugar supply and its distribution, which have just been announced. There is no doubt but that the sugar situation is much more serious than could possibly have been anticipated at the beginning of the war. The increased shipping needed by our growing army in France has necessitated the curtailment of sugar transportation, particularly from the longer voyage, and has thus reduced supplies both to the allies and ourselves from remote markets. Some of the accessible sugar-producing areas have proved a less yield than was anticipated, such as certain West Indian Islands. The domestic beet and Louisiana crops have fallen below anticipation. There has been some destruction of beet sugar factories in the battle area of France and Italy. We have lost considerable sugar by submarines.

As close an estimate as can be made, indicates a reasonable expectation from all sources of about 1,600,000 tons of sugar for United States consumption during the last half of the present year. This is based upon the maintenance of the present meagre allied ration. An improvement in shipping conditions would of course relieve this situation, as quantities of sugar are in unavailable markets. We must, however, base the distribution of sugar during the next six months, upon the above footing. After that period, the new West Indian crop will be available.

This supply of 1,600,000 tons necessitates a considerable reduction in our consumption. To provide 3 pounds of sugar per month per person for household use, to take care of our army and navy, and to provide for the necessary preservation of fruit, milk, etc., will require about 1,700,000 tons of sugar for the six months. A household consumption of 3 pounds per month per person, together with the special allowance for home canning, means a reduction of some 25 percent in these branches of consumption from normal, but it is still nearly double the ration in the allied countries and is ample for every economical use, food officials say.

The Toll of Famine

If a list were made of all those in Europe who have died in action and another of those who have died from starvation, the latter would be the longer.

Think of it! Five hundred thousand more have died from famine than have died on the battle field. The total number of those who have been killed in fighting is 4,250,000. The total number of those who have died from starvation is 4,750,000. Can we grasp the tragedy in these figures?

Over four and a half millions of old men and women, young mothers, girls, and boys and babies, have been sacrificed to the War-God without even the privilege of leaving behind the honored memory of those who die in glorious service on the battlefield. They have died in silent anguish, unknown and unsung.

Perhaps the memory of their deaths would not forever fill us with horror if we could convince ourselves that those who have died from starvation have not died in vain that by their sacrifice they have pushed the Allies a little nearer victory. The loss of these lives will have been appallingly useless unless their deaths shall serve as a spur for us to redouble our efforts in food conservation and save the remaining millions in Europe who turn to us each day, pleading, "Give us this day our daily bread."

What are you doing to prevent the further sacrifice of human lives from starvation? Are you—

Going wheatless until the next harvest?

Raising and planting to can enough vegetables and fruit for your own needs this summer and next winter?

Reducing your consumption of sugar to a minimum by using honey and syrups whenever possible?

Making the smallest amounts of meat and fats go the longest way?

Preaching and practicing food conservation whenever possible?

Approve Sunday Work

It is quite right and proper to do farm work on Sunday if that Sunday work is necessary to produce food crops to help whip Germany. That is the attitude of the rural churches in Indiana, expressed recently in conference at Purdue University. The reason given for this position was the conviction of Indiana rural ministers that Germany is the worst enemy of civilization, and of every church of civilization—of all religion everywhere, that is worthy the name of religion; that the victory of the barbarous Huns would be literally the victory of the devil and the triumph of that pagan monstrosity created by the kaiser's savage and sacrilegious mind, and called by him "the good old German gott;" in short, that every church in America is fighting for its existence, just as every other component of civilization is fighting for its existence, and that if Sunday work in saving crops will help overthrow this bestial menace it becomes—veritably a churchly work to do.

This conference of the rural churches of Indiana was held at Purdue University under the auspices of the department of agricultural extension.

The poorer classes in Turkey are now living on chestnuts and pumpkin seeds. With this in view, we cannot object to a ration of cornmeal, oatmeal, and barely flour.

When the world is to be saved a Man of Destiny always appears. All eyes are now turned on General Foch. Has Destiny laid a finger on his sleeve?

The words "bone dry" are occasionally whispered, but they will have to be spoken in thunder tones before the nation can hear them.

Rose Pastor Stokes is now finding to her cost what it means to be against the government.

Russell Hayes on Last Lap of Aviation Course

Russell Hayes, formerly of Knightstown, who is well known in this city has about reached the summit of his ambition and somewhere behind the lines in France has entered the last lap of the training which will give him the title which all American boys with birdlike tendencies covet. He has about completed that section of his foreign aviation course which will entitle him to be ranked among the "aces" which breathe terror into the ranks of the enemy.

"EVERYTHING WRONG"

So It Seemed To This Lady, Until Cardui Relieved Her Suffering.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"About a year and a half ago," writes Mrs. Florence Rogers, now of this place, formerly of Florida, "I had got in very bad health. Everything was wrong. I couldn't eat anything that didn't make me suffer... My limbs also gave me great pain and the pains in the limbs extending down to the knees. I too had awful pains in the back and was very thin and run-down in health... was terribly nervous. Everything would trouble me..."

An acquaintance told me of the great benefit she had received from Cardui... I was so bad off I couldn't do my work. The little daughter had to take charge of the work, and I could hardly walk..."

I began using Cardui, and in about a week I felt much improved... I got better right along, after taking the Cardui... In about 2 weeks after taking the Cardui, I was able to do all my work except the washing... In a month more, I could do all my work, and the washing too..."

Ladies! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It has helped thousands of other women in the past 49 years. Why not you? Your druggist sells Cardui. N.C.B.-13

Basil Moore, who was in two on an agricultural claim, was placed back in class one, by the district board at his own request. Thomas F. Ball, who was given class three by the district board for agricultural reasons, has been moved up to class one by the district board on recommendation of the local board.

The local board has received a copy of instructions sent out by Provost Marshal General Crowder to district and local boards, that in considering claims for deferred classification on dependency grounds, they will disregard income provided by states or municipalities for maintenance of dependents while registrants upon whose labors these persons are dependent for support, are in the military service of the United States.

The provost marshal has also called attention to the fact, in a communication to local boards, that in reclassifying some boards are basing dependency status of registrants on a finding of whether or not the parents or relatives of the registrant or his dependents, are willing or able to provide for the dependents.

The boards are referred to paragraph F, section 72 of the Selective Service Regulations, which means that the ability or willingness of parents or parents-in-law of registrant to provide for his dependents must not be considered. This section specifically says that "where the claimed dependent is the wife or child of the registrant, support by persons other than the registrant shall not be considered."

WESTBOUND TIME THE SAME

The government has awarded to the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western railroad the contract for the handling of all through mail and express between Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Chicago, which resulted in a change in time effective tomorrow.

The new train carrying mail and express without passenger coaches, will leave Rushville for Chicago at 11:25 p.m., taking the place of the 12:22 a.m., which formerly carried passengers in addition to the mail. The new eastbound train exclusively for mail and express, will leave this city for Cincinnati at 4:05 a.m., taking the place of the 6:08 morning train, which carried passengers.

The train leaving Cincinnati at 8:20 a.m. and arriving here at 10:51 a.m. will not be discontinued but will operate only as far as Indianapolis instead of Chicago as formerly. No. 30, leaving here at 7:55 p.m. and No. 32, 6:53 p.m. both westbound, will have no change in schedule. No. 30 is the only westbound through train from Cincinnati to Chicago.

The trains which formerly left for Cincinnati at 11:31 a.m. and 3:55 p.m. will depart at 11:12 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. The eastbound evening train leaving here at 8:22, will not change time. It will be the only through Chicago to Cincinnati eastbound train.

Let an Expert Do It

Charging is not an especially complicated process, but it is an especially important one.

By proper charging, batteries are returned to their proper condition; by improper charging, their life is likely to be seriously shortened.

What would life be without loyalty?

Loyalty is the finest fibre in the human breast—it awards alike the humble and the great—makes the small man big and the big man bigger.

Take loyalty from the heart of a saint and you have the likeness of a devil.

The greatest thing in life is man's loyalty to man. Your loyalty and our loyalty is being tested every day.

A loyal citizen as well as a loyal merchant co-operates with their government.

We can show our loyalty to you by cleaning and pressing your wearing apparel. Money saved in this manner can be invested in W. S. S.

Our plant is now busy with summer clothes and reblocking straw hats. Why not let us serve you?
